DIRECTIONS

This booklet reflects changes in the law that became effective in January 2017.

What is a Power of Attorney?

You make a variety of decisions every day. If you sign a Power of Attorney, you give another person (your agent) the right to make decisions for you and you give them the authority to carry the decisions out. The form provided here is based upon the Alaska Statutes (AS 13.26.600-965) and it can be tailored to meet your specific needs. For instance, you can grant your agent broad powers to do almost anything you could do for yourself (general power of attorney) or you can pick and choose the powers you want to give an agent (specific power of attorney). You can choose to appoint an agent immediately or you can make the appointment effective only if you become disabled. You can limit the time your agent will have power to act on your behalf or you can make the appointment “durable,” which means your agent will have powers even if you become disabled. You can also indicate that the appointment will be revoked upon your incapacity.

Please note, Alaska now has a separate law addressing health care advance directives. Issues addressed include the designation of a health care agent, end-of-life treatment decisions (living wills), mental health care treatment options, and organ donation (see AS 13.52). There is a separate booklet and form titled the Alaska Advance Health Care Directive that should be used for all health care related issues.

Section 1. Naming your agent.

In this section, you name the person who you wish to appoint as your agent. There is also a space where you can name a second person as a co-agent, but you don't have to. It is critically important that you trust the person you name in your Power of Attorney. The authority you give as the “principal” can have a major impact on you. For instance, your agent may sell your house or withdraw money from your accounts. There will be no oversight of your agent by a judge regarding the decisions he or she makes. In addition, it is very important to make sure the agent understands what your wishes are. Therefore, it is highly recommended that you discuss your wishes and desires with the person you name in your Power of Attorney. However, as long as you are mentally competent, you always have the right to revoke a Power of Attorney.

Section 2. If you name more than one agent, you have a couple options.

As mentioned above, you can name more than one person to act on your behalf. If you name more than one agent in Section 1, you must mark the first or second statement in Section 2. Mark the first statement if you want to allow each agent to make decisions without getting approval from the other. If you want both agents to act together, jointly, mark the second sentence.

It's probably not a good idea to require both agents to act together if one of them lives outside Alaska. For instance, if you name two people as your agents and they are trying to sell your house, both of them would need to sign all the paperwork. In general, appointing only one agent is simpler. In Section 10, you can name a second person as an alternate agent in case your first agent is unable or unwilling to serve.

Section 3. Choosing which powers to grant on Power of Attorney form.

You do not have to give your agent authority for all of the powers listed in Section 3 of the Power of Attorney form. In fact, any power (A-N) that is NOT marked “Yes” by you will NOT be granted to your agent. You can find more detailed information about what powers each provision grants by asking an attorney or reading Alaska Statute Section 13.26.665. NOTE: the authority to make health care decisions for you is not covered by this power of attorney form. There is a separate form called the Alaska Advance Health Care Directive that covers all health care issues. It is highly recommended that you complete BOTH a Power of Attorney form and an Alaska Advance Health Care Directive.

Section 4. Grant of Specific Authority.

This section addresses some special situations that may apply. The form is structured so that the principal must mark the special power if he or she wishes the agent to have that power. If the power is not marked by the principal the agent will NOT have the power.

Section 5. Sections 5, 6, and 7 let you decide when and for how long you want the Power of Attorney to be effective. If you mark the first sentence in Section 5, the document will become effective immediately and the person you name as your agent will have the power to act on your behalf. Some people do not want this. Instead, you may want to designate an agent only in the event you cannot act on your own behalf. Marking the second sentence makes the appointment of an agent effective only when you become incapacitated. This is what is meant as a “springing” power of attorney.

Section 6.

If you choose to make your Power of Attorney effective immediately, then in Section 6 you must decide whether it will be “durable.” A durable power of attorney remains effective in the event you become incapacitated. If you want your agent to continue to have authority under such circumstances, mark the first sentence in Section 6. If not, mark the second sentence in Section 6.

Section 7.

If you want to appoint someone as your agent to accomplish a specific task or only for a limited period of time, you should complete this section. This section allows you to pick a date on which the Power of Attorney will no longer be valid. Do not complete this section if you want your power of attorney to be “durable” or to become effective only if you become disabled.

Section 8.

You may revoke this Power of Attorney for any reason at any time, provided you are mentally competent to do so. There are a couple ways to do this. You may destroy the original and complete a new Power of Attorney if you wish to name another person. You can also sign a Notice of Revocation by writing a brief notarized statement revoking the old Power of Attorney. The new Power of Attorney, or the Notice of Revocation, should be distributed in the same manner as you distributed the old Power of Attorney. To be safe, you should also send the Notice of Revocation directly to the agent via first class mail, return receipt requested, so that you can prove that the agent was informed that he/she was no longer authorized to act on your behalf. You may also wish to record the Notice of Revocation with a state Recorder’s office.

Section 9. Notice to Third Parties.

This section does not require any action. It describes some possible legal consequences if a third party refuses to honor a validly executed Power of Attorney.

Section 10 (optional). Naming an alternate agent.

It's possible that the person you name as your agent will not be able to perform his or her duties. For instance, your agent may move out of state, die, or otherwise become incapable of performing. To address this possibility, you may want to name a replacement just in case.

Section 11 (optional). Naming a guardian or conservator.

There are some circumstances in which a guardian or conservator will need to be appointed for you even if you have completed a Power of Attorney form. This section allows you to name the person you would want to serve as your guardian or conservator. You may name the same person you named as your agent.

Section 12 (optional). Health Care Power of Attorney.

As mentioned in section 3, there is a separate form called the Alaska Advance Health Care Directive that covers all health care issues. If you have a health care directive, you may want to indicate this fact by marking the appropriate statement in this section.

Section 13. Signatures.

The Power of Attorney must be signed in front of a notary and sealed by him or her. Once you have completed the Power of Attorney, you should give the original to whomever you named as the power of attorney, distribute copies to important people, and keep a copy for yourself. If you later revoke the Power of Attorney, you should distribute the revocation in the same manner as you distributed the original.
